Ontario County Public Health

STI's are common. By the time individuals reach age twenty-five, at least half have had a sexually transmitted disease. Even so, STI's remain a sensitive topic for many people. It can be difficult to discuss one's symptoms and sexual history with a healthcare provider. For individuals who do not have access to a doctor or who lack health insurance, getting tested is even more challenging. Fortunately, there is good news. Ontario County Public Health offers no-cost services.

Planned Parenthood has a long history of providing state-of-the-art care to women of childbearing age. What many do not know is that they offer comprehensive STI services for both women and men. It is staffed by caring professionals who will help you feel at ease discussing your questions and concerns. If you cannot pay for STI services on the day of your appointment, Planned Parenthood will bill Ontario County Public Health for your visit.

Geneva Community Health is a federally qualified healthcare center. The center offers comprehensive health services for both men and women- including STI testing and treatment. Staff members are trained to help individuals apply for health insurance and many speak both English and Spanish. If you are unable to pay for STI services, the health center will bill Ontario County Public Health for your visit.
